Hapeville Charter Career Academy Flexible Learning Program Informational meeting 1

Friday, August 14, 2015

Parents:

You are invited to an informational meeting to discuss The Flexibility Wavier and how it affects your child's school. The meeting will be held Monday, August 17, 2015 at the Hapeville Charter Career Academy in the cafeteria.

As part of its Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) waiver, the GaDOE identifies schools that exhibit the greatest need for additional support. In summary, Priority Schools are among the lowest five percent of Title I schools in terms of academic achievement. Focus Schools are among the lowest 10 percent of Title I schools in terms of the achievement gap – both the size of the gap between the school's bottom quartile of students and the state average, and the degree to which that gap is closing.

Under Georgia's renewed ESEA flexibility waiver, the criteria for Priority and Focus Schools are now fully aligned with the College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI), allowing for a more transparent measure with which districts and schools are already familiar.

Hapeville was identified as a Priority School

1. A three-year average of performance on the Content Mastery category of the CCRPI is calculated for all schools (this category is based on performance on statewide assessments)
2. Schools are ranked based on their three-year average in the CCRPI Content Mastery category
3. The lowest five percent of Title I schools in the state, based on the three-year average in the CCRPI Content Mastery category, is identified
4. High schools with a four-year cohort graduation rate less than 60 percent in 2013 and 2014, which are not already captured in the lowest five percent, are identified
5. Schools identified as Priority Schools in 2012, which do not meet the criteria for exiting that list, are re-identified as Priority Schools

Come out and learn how you can be involved in your child's school!

Educationally yours,

Stacy Henry
Associate Principal
